

Despite Promised Public Benefits, Silver Line Faces Growing Opposition

By Adam Smith

Despite promises to give Chinatown more public transportation options, a quicker route to the airport, and access to potential jobs near Boston's Waterfront, an underground bus route proposed for the neighborhood is facing growing opposition from Chinatown groups, businesses and institutions.

Chinatown's opposition to the final segment of the Silver Line bus route has grown more organized -- with a hotel and teaching hospital taking lead roles in opposing the project -- as the federal and state reviews of the bus route come closer to completion. Residents have until July 22 to comment on Silver Line Phase III, which will bring four to six years of heavy construction to Chinatown and possibly parts of the South End and Back Bay.

The Silver Line's Phase III will

Democrat Yoon Gets Backing from Asian Republican Group

By Adam Smith

"I'm a Democrat. I might even describe myself as a bleeding heart liberal," said Boston City Council At-Large candidate

Sam Yoon at a recent political discussion.

Yet despite his political ideology, Yoon recently received a boost of support from an unlikely group: Asian Republicans of Massachusetts.

Chung Wah Hong Owners Plead Not Guilty

By Adam Smith

Owners of Chinatown's Chung Wah Hong market on Beach Street pleaded not guilty to charges of tax evasion at their arraignment on June 28 at Suffolk Superior Criminal Court.

Oi Nar Woo, her husband Michael Chin, and his son David Chin were arraigned on charges that included tax evasion and possession of more than 12,000 packages of cigarettes that were either untaxed or not taxed in Massachusetts.

Michael Chin was charged with seven counts of failing to file tax returns, one count of attempting to evade taxes, one count of possessing more than 12,000 unstamped packages of cigarettes, and five counts of possessing firearms without proper permits. He pleaded not guilty to all charges. David Chin was charged with three counts of failing to file tax returns, one count of filing false tax returns, one count of attempting to evade taxes, and possession of 12,000 unstamped packages of cigarettes. to all charges. Woo was charged with one count of attempting to evade taxes, one count of filing a false statement for medical assistance, and one count of selling more than 12,000 untaxed cigarettes. She pleaded not guilty to all charges.

Trial Magistrate Gary Wilson ordered that the three be released on their own recognizance but that their passports be taken to prevent them from leaving the country. A trial is slated for March of 2006.

The case was first arraigned in Boston Municipal Court in March, after law enforcement officers raided the family's store at 55 Beach Street and Woo and Michael Chin's apartment nearby. The raid was part of a six-week investigation by the state attorney general and the state department of revenue.

At the time, a lawyer for Michael Chin and Woo said the couple is deeply rooted in the community and that the attorney general is on a "fishing expedition." He declined to comment on the arraignment at Suffolk Superior Court, saying he preferred to "keep cool right now."

The family is accused of evading payment of more than $100,000 in state taxes by obtaining cigarettes in Virginia, which has one of the nation's lowest cigarette excise taxes, and selling them in Massachusetts, which has one of the nation's highest excise taxes. According to assistant attorney general Laura Marlin, the Chung Wah Hong store also contained "foreign" cigarettes.

During the raid of the couple's store and residence in March, law enforcement officers discovered that Michael Chin illegally possessed four handguns and one shotgun inside his apartment.

Some Chinatown Councilors Unhappy As Glass Slipper Slips By...

At least two neighborhood councilors expressed disappointment at the June 20 neighborhood council meeting that the Glass Slipper strip club will stay in Chinatown. Several councilors had long thought the planned 30-story Kensington Place apartment tower would displace the Slipper from Chinatown, which was one reason they earlier supported the apartment complex. But they didn't expect the club, which started a legal battle to protect its home of two-decades from an eminent domain taking, to simply move into a vacant building across La Grange St.

"I'm just kind of disappointed that the Glass Slipper is still there," said councilor Kai Lau, who had supported Kensington because he thought it would force out the club. Lau questioned whether Kensington did enough to keep out the Glass Slipper, which legally operates in Boston's only adult entertainment zone, and asked if Kensington could have outbid the Glass Slipper for its new building at 22 La Grange St.

But other councilors, such as Bill Moy and Father Hugh O'Regan, showed little resistance to the club's move across the street, saying there's no way to prevent the move. (At the time of the council meeting, the club was waiting for city and state approvals to transfer its liquor and entertainment licenses.)

"Legally, we cannot get them out," said O'Regan.

Ralph Cole of Kensington said the developer has already spent lots of money in its legal battle against the Slipper and noted that Kensington would include some affordable units.

The Glass Slipper's lawyer has said that the club's owners would have preferred to stay at 15 La Grange St. Furthermore, he said that if the Slipper were prevented from

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Advanced Electronics Story

Dear Editors:

I wanted to thank you for your coverage of the AEI dispute. As mentioned in the article, the Chinese Progressive Association (CPA) Workers Center has provided support to laid-off workers who demanded severance benefits, an end to harassment, and advanced notice of any future layoffs or potential closing. A separate investigation of discrimination complaints is underway by the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC).

However, I wish to correct certain statements about the June 8 rally, some of which were made by board chairman Edward Chiang, who claimed that the rally was held prematurely.

In fact, the employees presented their demands to the company as far back as May 16th, pushing back their deadline and protest plans twice to accommodate the shareholders' board. When employees finally met with Mr. Chiang on June 6, he explained that he needed more time to fully address their demands, but the employees intended to go ahead with their previously scheduled picket. CPA staff members, after ascertaining that this was the employees' intention, realized that there might have been misunderstanding on this point, so we gave Mr. Chiang the courtesy of a heads-up that the workers still planned to go forward with their picket but would refrain from sending press announcements to the mainstream media.

The role of CPA's Workers Center is to help Chinese immigrant workers learn about their rights and options for action, and to provide the benefit of our experience and community support. We do not make decisions for any worker to protest, to file a discrimination complaint, or to go to the media.

We are optimistic that, with the cooperation of both the former employees and the owners, the AEI situation will soon be positively resolved. Sincerely,
Lydia Lowe
CPA Executive Director

Newcomer Passoni to Challenge Councilor Kelly

Passoni, a 10-year Boston resident and New York native, was a research analyst in investment banking for the past two decades and has been involved in several community organizations, serving as a board member of the Ellis South End Neighborhood Association, a finance committee chair of Building Excellent Schools, and a board member of Excel Academy Charter School.

Her investment banking resume includes working as director at Credit Suisse First Boston and a managing director and partner at SG Cowen.

Passoni said she wants to use her experience as a financial analyst to improve Boston's budget.

"The budget is a big passion of mine," she said, noting that she feels that much of the "city council needs to be better educated in the different dynamics behind the budget."

In addition, she said, the city council doesn't reach out enough to Boston's many number-crunching research institutions for budget support.

"There are some really smart people that are working in the city and I think that we should reach out to them more effectively than we do," she said.

To improve the city's financial health, Passoni, a registered Democrat, says she would support imposing taxes on businesses that reside on properties owned by tax-exempt organizations, rather than relying on the current system of "payments in lieu of taxes," which she feels doesn't generate enough money. She also said she would work to encourage more corporations to come to Boston, which would lead to more jobs for the city, and work with developers to encourage the development of more mixed-income housing.

Talking about building developments -- an issue that has created a stir in Chinatown in recent years, Passoni said: "I really think that the development of the city should always be done with the best interest of a neighborhood."

She called the Boston Redevelopment Authority's dual role as a planning and a development agency "a conflict of interest."

The city council, she said, should be more involved in development and give residents a "voice to their concerns."

The approval of large-scale housing complexes, such as Park Essex and Kensington Place in Chinatown, has created tensions in the neighborhood in recent years. One segment of the community feels such developments do not comply with zoning and Chinatown's Master Plan, while others feel the developments create more housing opportunities and spur economic development. Councilor Kelly supported Kensington Place and Park Essex because he felt they would add housing to the neighborhood and because they include some affordable units.

On the issue of the proposed top-level biodefense research lab at Boston University Medical Center, Passoni said she opposes the lab, which would bring study of the world's deadliest pathogens such as Ebola to Boston.

"I definitely think a facility like that in a densely populated area is not the best idea," she said. Kelly, however, supports the laboratory.

Passoni said she's campaigning for the District 2 seat out of frustration.

"I've lived in the South End for 10 years... and I just felt that we needed and deserved better representation than what we currently have. I also grew increasingly frustrated by the fact that every time I got my tax bill, it kept going up... exponentially... and I didn't really see any improvements in the city to justify the level of taxes that we pay."

Passoni quit her job as a research analyst two years ago and started to investigate running for city council. She said she spoke with the politically connected as well as office holders and started attending city council hearings and Boston Redevelopment Authority and zoning meetings.

"Politics is something that has always intrigued me and I thought, 'Well, I have a financial background that I think would be very applicable to helping to remedy some of the issues that the city of Boston has.'"

When asked what she thinks about councilor Kelly, who's been seated in District 2 since 1983, Passoni said: "I just felt that as a district, we just didn't see Kelly very often and we just needed better representation."

What does Kelly think about Passoni?

At first, he declined to comment on his opponent, saying he'd rather talk about his record. But he eventually said during an interview this week that he

Asian Republicans Support Yoon

Massachusetts is one of several diverse groups supporting Yoon, who came to the U.S. from Korea when he was about one year old. According to his fundraising records, he has so far received support from various members of the local Asian and non-Asian communities, as well as from people who don't even live in Boston, and who would appear politically opposite to him, such as Republicans.

"We feel that regardless of whether he's a Democrat or Republican, or Chinese or Korean, such a young Asian American of his caliber committing himself [to run for city council] is worthy of support," said Joe Wong, president of Asian Republicans of Massachusetts.

When asked how the group reconciles supporting a candidate who is at a different end of the political spectrum, Wong said:

"As far as we are concerned at Asian Republicans of Massachusetts, Asians come first, before the Republicans. Without the Asian community supporting us, we would be no use to the Republican party."

Other members added that the reason the group decided to support Yoon is because he is taking the initiative to run and he is inspiring a higher level of political activity beyond voting.

"The political process is crucial to succeeding in this society," said Yoke Wong, a member of the Republican association. He said he feels Yoon is an "advocate" for the Asian community.

"Simply being Asian wouldn't be enough for us [to support him]," said David Wong, secretary of the association. "He knows the community and he cares."

Joe Wong said Yoon approached the group several months ago, asking for their support.

"I am proud to bring together a diverse group of Bostonians, of all races, religions, and perspectives," said Yoon, who said he would take a "progressive approach" to improving education, increasing affordable housing, and strengthening Boston communities.

Yoon became familiar in Chinatown through his previous work at the Asian Community Development Corporation, which co-developed the mixed-income Metropolitan housing complex in Chinatown recently. Yoon took a leave of absence from Asian CDC in April.

The Dorchester resident previously worked as a teacher in Trenton and Elizabeth, New Jersey. He graduated from Princeton University, earning a teacher's license and a bachelor's degree in philosophy.

Yoon will face what is expected to be a tight race to fill the four At-Large council seats. At last count, about 15 people -- including heavyweights such as Michael Flaherty and longtime councilors such as Stephen J. Murphy -- were also vying for the four seats. Other competitors include the city's first Hispanic councilor, Felix Arroyo, and candidates who have Boston political family ties, such as Patricia H. White, daughter of former mayor Kevin White; Edward Flynn, son of former Boston mayor Raymond Flynn, and John Connolly, whose father served in the Massachusetts house of representatives and as secretary of state, and whose mother is chief justice of the Massachusetts State District Court.

feels that his "opponent is really trying to be all things to all people." Kelly also claimed that Passoni had "flip-flopped" on the biolab issue. Passoni claims that is untrue and that she's remained consistent on her position.

When asked about Passoni's comment about Kelly's lack of representation, Kelly said: "Even my critics will admit that no one works harder, and puts in more time and energy and has more successes than I do."

"I've been (in Chinatown) on issues of public safety; I've been there on issues of development."

I roll up my sleeves and I fight for affordable housing for the residents of Chinatown."

But he has received mixed reviews in Chinatown.

"For Chinatown, he's been a good councilor," said Bill Moy, who leads the Chinatown neighborhood council. "His constituents feel he performs, regardless of race and color."

"He's been a friend for many years, and is very loyal," said Bill Chin, who has long been active in the neighborhood. Chin also said Kelly has a good reputation as a councilor.

But not everyone agrees.

"I think that a lot of Chinatown residents have been unhappy with his votes on certain key issues, particularly recent development issues," said Lydia Lowe of the Chinese Progressive Association.

Kelly's support for developments such as Kensington Place and the biodefense laboratory has upset some segments of the community. And some complain of blunt comments by Kelly, such as when he told scientists and doctors at a council hearing who opposed the biodefense lab to "get your facts right."

For now, however,

Kelly does not appear threatened by Passoni's attempt to grab the seat he's held for nearly a quarter century, and to his advantage, it appears Passoni is not yet very well known in Chinatown.

Said Kelly: "I never underestimate my opposition. I respect the voters. I don't take their votes for granted. I'm confident but not overly confident."

Boston Foundation Gives $30K to Chinatown Group

By Adam Smith

The Boston Foundation recently awarded the Chinese Progressive Association a $30,000 grant to support its organizing efforts.

The grant was directed to the association's Campaign to Protect Chinatown, which started in the mid-1990s as a coalition of Chinatown groups opposing a large parking garage at Parcel C, now the Metropolitan building off Oak Street.

The grant, which will largely be used to pay staff salaries, will support organizing efforts that the association has already begun, such as helping tenants fight rent increases, workers fight for benefits, and residents shape building development plans. It will also help the association launch new efforts.

The goal of the Campaign to Protect Chinatown, said Lydia Lowe, director of the Chinese Progressive Association, is to sustain Chinatown as "a stable neighborhood for immigrant working class residents and an important ethnic center." Lowe said the campaign will continue ue focusing on development projects, such as the huge, multi-building Chinatown Gateway development that will neighbor Chinatown, and fighting rent increases.

Recently, the Chinese Progressive Association has assisted residents of 21 Edinboro St. apartments, Oak Terrace apartments, and Chauncy House apartments to bargain for lower rents or better living conditions. It has also worked to oppose development projects that it felt did not fit with the Chinatown Master Plan.

The grant comes while the Chinese Progressive Association is trying to raise $1.5 million for its new headquarters in the Metropolitan building. Lowe said that raising the money has made it more difficult to keep up community organizing.

"It's a particularly critical year for us to be able to have a stable budget," she said, adding that the grant will help the association keep focused on organizing.

Thanks to Asian Nonprofit, Chinatown Resident Learns English, Finds Job

By Adam Smith and Sampan staff

When Chinatown resident Xing Li Ma came to the United States from China in June of last year, speaking English was a struggle. Her only exposure to the language in China was from high school classes and an 18-month course she took after high school.

Now, the quite talkative 26-year-old can hold a lengthy conversation in English and get around the city with relative ease.

She credits her improvement in the language to classes she took at the Asian American Civic Association and another Chinatown nonprofit.

One month after coming to Boston, she enrolled in an English as a Second Language class at AACA at the urging of her husband who is also from China.

After the class, Ma took a course at the nearby Boston Chinatown Neighborhood Center and then took an AACA office-skills training course, which she completed last month. In the course, she learned business English, accounting, how to use a computer, and was introduced to a one-month teller training course at Citizens Bank.

Only days after her one-year anniversary in the U.S. -- and just as she neared completion of the teller training course, Ma received a call from Citizens Bank.

"Congratulations, you got the job," is what she recalled the woman saying over the phone this week. Ma will start her job as a teller next week and plans to enroll in part-time classes at Bunker Hill Community College in September.

Ma is one of about 200 students who received recognition on June 28 for completing ESL, office-skills, and other skills training classes this year at AACA.

AACA, a 38-year-old Chinatown area nonprofit, serves area immigrants with no- and low-cost ESL courses, job-skills training, immigration counseling, and housing assistance. The association also publishes Sampan newspaper.

Teachers at AACA say Ma is an example of how the association can help new immigrants learn English and find jobs.

Several of the other students who attended AACA's graduation ceremony this week will go on to their first jobs in the U.S., like Ma, while others will seek higher education, start internships, or enroll in more advanced ESL classes.

In addition, on July 4, six former AACA English students graduated from Bunker Hill Community College with associate's degrees.

As the AACA's clientele has grown over the years, so has the state's share of immigrant workers. The immigrant workforce in Massachusetts has almost doubled since 1980, now making up 17% of the state's total workforce, according to a newly released report by MassINC (Massachusetts Institute for a New Commonwealth). The increase in immigrants in Massachusetts from 2000 to 2004 prevented the state from a population decline during that time, says the study.

The report also found that immigrants who speak English at home earn two-and-a-half times more than those who don't speak English well -- $38,526 a year, compared to $14,221 a year.

A lead author of the report says the report shows "there is a clear and overwhelming need" for more education and training programs that help immigrants participate in the state's economy.

This can ring true for immigrants like Ma, who learn English at AACA and other similar agencies.

"AACA," said Ma, "was good for my English."

Mothers Improve English, Life-Skills in Chinatown Nonprofit

By Adam Smith

After having two kids, South End resident Allison Moy realized she needed to improve her English.

"I was afraid to talk to my son's teacher," said Moy, who has a nine-year-old boy and four-year-old daughter.

So, Moy, 38, enrolled in the Asian American Civic Association's Asian Family Literacy program.

After taking the program for two years, she said her English has improved and she can now communicate with ease.

Moy is one of about 20 students who completed classes in AACA's Asian Family Literacy Program on June 29.

AACA is a 38-year-old Chinatown area nonprofit that serves area immigrants with no- and low-cost ESL courses, job-skills training, immigration counseling, and housing assistance. It also publishes Sampan newspaper.

The Asian Family Literacy Program, which is funded by a $45,000 grant from the city's Office of Jobs and Community Service, has the capacity to serve 130 adults and more than 50 children ages three to 10 annually. In the program, the parents, and sometimes grandparents, learn English as well as life skills.

While the main goal of the program is to teach English proficiency, another goal is help the students, who are mostly mothers, learn to live in American society, said teacher and program coordinator Jill Uchiyama. Uchiyama is the only full-time staff in the program, and there is another part-time counselor.

Students at an end-of-class celebration for the AACA's Asian Family Literacy program on June 29.

Many students, said Uchiyama, have not been educated past high school while they were in China. "They might have lived here for ten years and they don't know how to write '$1.50' on a piece of paper. Or they don't know the difference between a.m. and p.m."

She said that some students have trouble taking the subway only a few stops to an area they're not familiar with, even though they've been in Boston for several years.

"We had a whole lesson on how to get to Symphony Hall," said Uchiyama. The lesson came about after students received donated tickets from the Boston Symphony Orchestra and no students wanted the tickets.

It's not that they didn't like the music, said Uchiyama. "They didn't go because they weren't comfortable getting on the train." The next time the BSO gave out 45 tickets, they were all swiped up.

Showing students how to go to the public library was another exercise for the class, and this year eleven students got a library card for the first time.

After completing the Asian Family Literacy program, some students will use their skills for parenting, while others will go on to take more advanced English classes or enroll in college. Some will look for employment.

Chinatown resident Xiao Shun Huo, age 36, who just finished the program said she hopes to continue learning English and to find a job. Huo, the mother of a three-year-old and four-year-old, said she took the program to improve her English.

"I live in America. I have to learn English," she said.

Increased Immigration Boosts Mass. Workforce

Thanks to an increase in immigration, Massachusetts avoided an overall population decline between 2000 and 2004, according to a newly released report by MassINC (Massachusetts Institute for a New Commonwealth).

Between those years, 172,054 immigrants moved to the state, increasing the immigrant population's share of the economy.

In 2004, 17% of the workforce of Massachusetts was made up of immigrants, up from 9% in 1980.

But many of these newcomers lack English skills, states the report, and are paid low wages. Immigrants who speak English at home earn about $38,500 annually compared to immigrants who don't speak English well who earn about $14,200 annually, the report found.

Other findings of the report include the following:

> Nearly 30% of adult immigrants have a college degree. But immigrants are three times as likely as native-born Americans to have dropped out of high school.

> Immigrants who did not complete high school earn an average annual wage of $14,687. Those who finished college earn an average annual wage of $40,179.

> Nearly half of immigrants who arrived to the state between 2000 and 2004 were from Latin America and Caribbean, while nearly a quarter were from Asia.

WHERE'S THE BUYING POWER?

Across all races in the U.S., the Asian American population is the youngest. In MA, more than half of all Asian Americans are under age 35.

Asian Americans also have the highest percentage of 25-35 year olds within its population.

Asian Americans have the highest average household incomes and levels of education in the US. In MA, 49.8% of Asian Americans have a bachelor's or higher degree.

Culture Connector™

*Ask the Culture Connector™...
... your guide to culture advice and lifestyle*

Q. I've heard that Cantonese and Mandarin are spoken in China, Taiwan, and Hong Kong. But what about Toisanese? Is it also spoken by all Chinese?

A. Not everyone who's Chinese can speak all three of these dialects. Mandarin is spoken in Taiwan and China, where it is the official dialect. Cantonese is spoken in Hong Kong and Guangdong province, which is in southern China, although people in these areas may speak and understand Mandarin, too. Toisanese is the dialect spoken in the rural region of Guangdong. Many Toisanese speakers came to the U.S. in the 1900s to help build the railroads. According to the Web site of the University of Washington Harborview Medical Center (www.ethnomed.org/ethnomed), Cantonese is the most commonly spoken dialect by Chinese living in the USA's Pacific Northwest, Northern California, and the East Coast. It is also the dialect that you'll hear often, if not most often, in Boston Chinatown.

Q. Are there any good Tibetan restaurants in the Boston area?

A. The Culture Connector™ knows of three, all of them on the red line of the subway. House of Tibet is at 235 Holland Street, Somerville, near the Davis Square stop. Rangzen is at 24 Pearl Street, Cambridge, near the Central Square stop. The newest restaurant of the three, Martsa, is at 233 Elm Street, Somerville, also near the Davis Square stop. If readers know of other Tibetan restaurants, let the Culture Connector™ know.

IMPORTANT NOTICE - EFFECTIVE JULY 1, 2005

CHINATOWN RESIDENTS

YOUR TRASH COLLECTION DAY IS MONDAY, WEDNESDAY & FRIDAY

YOUR RECYCLING DAY IS FRIDAY

On July 1, 2005, the City of Boston Public Works Department will begin its new rubbish and recycling contract. In some areas of the City, the weekday and time of your trash and recycling collection may change. Residents will receive the same level of services. For further information, please check the City's website www.cityofboston.gov/publicworks or call the Sanitation Department at 617-635-7573 or the Recycling Office at 617-635-4959.

- * Trash & recycling bins should be placed out by 7:00 A.M. the day of collection.
- * There must be sufficient metal or durable plastic barrels for storing of reguse generated in the building.
- * Disposable 2-ply (or heavier) plastic bags may be used instead of trash barrels for curbside trash collection.
- * Recycling is good for the environment, but also cost less to remove and discourages people from ripping bags looking for bottles or cans.
- * Large apartment buildings and condominiums are required to offer recycling services. Ask your landlord or condominium association to contact the City of Boston's Recycling Office at 617-635-4959.

Keeping Your Green Card While Traveling

By Nelson Suit

An immigrant who has obtained permanent residence in the U.S. should understand that, in spite of its name, permanent residency may not be "permanent." There are a number of events that can result in the termination of such status. I want in this column to discuss one of those events: the possibility that an immigrant could be seen as having abandoned the green card when traveling.

The issue generally arises when an immigrant who has recently obtained a green card decides to travel abroad for an extended stay for either work or family obligations. Under U.S. immigration laws, such immigrant may be denied admission back into the U.S. if it is determined that the immigrant has "abandoned" his or her intent to be a U.S. permanent resident and is not returning from abroad after a "temporary" visit.

Generally, if a green card holder does not travel outside the U.S. for more than 12 months, the question may not be raised. Also, if a green card holder does intend to be out of the country for more than 12 months for a specified purpose of limited duration (such as employment abroad), the green card holder can apply for a reentry permit prior to leaving the U.S.

But a permanent resident should nonetheless be aware of the factors that are often looked at to show intent to abandon permanent residence in case questions arise whether a trip abroad is of short or long duration. These factors include:

- (1) location of the immigrant's family ties;
- (2) location of immigrant's property holdings;
- (3) location of immigrant's job;
- (4) intention as to immigrant's actual home;
- (5) length of time abroad;
- (6) purpose for traveling abroad and whether such purpose was for a "temporary" visit.

It is important that a green card holder who travels for an extended period abroad continue to file U.S. income tax returns. As a green card holder, such person is subject to U.S. tax on his or her worldwide income. While there may be limited exemptions available for certain income earned abroad and possible credits for taxes paid abroad that may limit or eliminate actual U.S. tax liability, it is important that the income tax returns be filed.

Moreover, it is generally helpful to retain a U.S. bank account through which deposits can be made as that often indicates intent by the immigrant to return to the U.S.

Also, immigrants who may have had in process applications for permanent residence in other countries (such as obtaining landed immigrant status in Canada) may wish to consider terminating such petitions since obtaining permanent resident status in another country may be a factor to be considered in whether an immigrant has shown an intent to abandon U.S. residency.

Finally, for traveling outside the U.S. for more than 12 months, as noted above, the green card holder er should apply for a reentry permit. The permit is applied for by using Form I-131 that can be obtained from the U.S.

Citizenship and Immigration Services (USCIS) website. The reentry permit is generally valid for a two-year period.

The Form I-131 requires basic background information of the applicant as well as information relating to the purpose of the trip and expected departure date and duration. Thus, the intent of the trip can be documented on the reentry permit application. The applicant should include a copy of the green card and a filing fee of $165 with the application form. The form is filed with the USCIS Nebraska Service Center.

Fight Silent Killers

Preventing High Blood Pressure and Kidney Disease

By Klemens Meyer, M.D., Lesley Stevens, M.D. MS., Alice Martin, R.N., and Ronald Perrone, M.D.

High Blood Pressure What is blood pressure?

Blood pressure is what makes blood flow from the heart to the organs and back to the heart.

Why are two numbers used to measure blood pressure? The blood pressure is measured at two times. The blood pressure, when the heart pumps, gives the high number, or "systolic" blood pressure. The blood pressure, when the heart relaxes, gives the low number, or "diastolic" blood pressure.

What is a good blood pressure? For most people, the blood pressure should be less than 140/90: the top number should be less than 140, AND the bottom number should be less than 90. For people who have diabetes or kidney disease, the blood pressure should be below 130/80: the top number should be less than 130, AND the bottom number should be less than 80.

Why should I worry about high blood pressure? High blood pressure (also called hypertension) can cause you to have a stroke, a heart attack or kidney failure. High blood pressure can damage anyone's body. People who smoke tobacco, who are overweight, who have diabetes, who have high blood cholesterol, and who have kidney disease are at very high risk for having a stroke, a heart attack or developing kidney failure.

How can I tell if I have high blood pressure? High blood pressure or hypertension usually has no signs or symptoms. The only way to know if you have high blood pressure is to get it checked by a doctor or nurse.

Kidney Disease

What are kidneys, and what do they do? Kidneys clean the blood, get rid of the fluid we drink, and control the blood pressure. The kidneys help to make blood cells and help to keep the bones strong.

How prevalent is kidney disease? More than 1 in 10 persons in the United States has kidney disease, which is caused often by high blood pressure and diabetes. More than 400,000 people have kidney failure that requires dialysis -- cleaning wastes from the blood artificially -- or a kidney transplant. For Asians in the United States, the risk of kidney failure is 50% higher than among whites.

What Causes Kidney Disease? High blood pressure and diabetes are the most common causes. Other causes include abnormal inflammation in the kidneys, inherited diseases, kidney stones, and some medicines and herbs.

How do you know if you have kidney disease? Like high blood pressure, kidney disease is usually silent until it has done its damage. Sometimes, kidney disease may cause swollen ankles or darkening of the urine.

How do doctors know if you have kidney disease? They give blood tests or urine tests.

Why should I worry about kidney disease? Kidney disease can lead to kidney failure. It used to be that kidney failure was fatal for everyone. Now, kidney failure can be treated by dialysis or kidney transplantation. However, dialysis and transplantation are difficult and complicated treatments. In addition, people who have kidney disease are more likely to die of heart disease. Treated kidney disease can therefore also help prevent heart disease.

How Can High Blood Pressure and Kidney Disease be Treated? Lowering blood pressure is one of the most important treatments for kidney disease. High blood pressure and kidney disease can be treated by diet, regular exercise, quitting smoking, controlling blood sugar levels if you have diabetes, and healthy living. Medications are also very important and necessary in most patients. Some blood pressure medicines are especially good for the kidneys. If you have any concerns about the medications or their side effects, you should speak to your doctor and discuss why he or she has prescribed these medications. It is possible that other medications can be used instead.

Opposition Growing to Silver Line Phase III Despite Public Benefits

connect the already-completed Silver Line Phase I and Phase II. Phase I stretches from Roxbury's Dudley Square to downtown Boston, and Phase II links South Station to Logan Airport and the South Boston Waterfront. Once the final phase is completed around 2013, a Silver Line bus rider will be able go directly from Dudley Square to Logan Airport -- a trip that previously would require taking at least two buses and two separate train lines.

The project consists of two segments -- a core tunnel and one of four alternative tunnels, which have undergone several changes in recent years. The core tunnel will extend slightly over a half mile underneath Essex and Boylston streets, from South Station to the intersection of Charles and Boylston streets. The core tunnel will have stations at the Chinatown and Boylston Street T stops. Connecting the core tunnel to Silver Line's Phase I route, which runs above ground from Dudley Square to downtown, will be one of four tunnel alternatives. The three alternatives that would run through Chinatown are what have most riled up the neighborhood, especially the DoubleTree Hotel and Tufts-New England Medical Center.

Each of the three Chinatown tunnel alternatives would enter the underground at a portal at Washington Street, between the hotel and the medical center. One tunnel would run under Tremont Street to the core tunnel; another would run under Charles Street, requiring a temporary taking of Elliot Norton Park; and the other would run under Tremont Street, turn under Stuart Street, and then continue under Charles Street until reaching the core tunnel. The fourth alternative -- the one Chinatown groups are advocating for and some South End residents are opposing -- would skip the neighborhood altogether and run under Columbus Avenue, entering the underground at a portal near the Park Plaza Castle.

Facing the most resistance is the construction of the Washington Street portal in between the DoubleTree Hotel and Tufts-New England Medical Center. The hotel claims that the four to six years of ground pounding, concrete crushing, and dirt digging will put it out of business. The portal would also occupy more than half of the hotel's parking lot, displacing 14 parking spaces.

If the Chinatown portal is selected, said Bob Newman, general manager of the DoubleTree, "the hotel will not survive."

Right next door, Tufts-New England Medical Center said it fears buses entering or exiting the portal could block its emergency room and ambulance entrance.

"The last thing that any of us want to see is a child in an ambulance stuck behind a (Silver Line) bus," said Joan Fallon, spokesperson of Tufts New England Medical Center, at a community meeting last week that was organized by the medical center, hotel and other Silver Line Phase III critics.

The hospital also fears that vibrations created from construction will render MRI scans and other Medial School professor Doug Brugge spoke of pedestrian dangers in Chinatown and air pollution, suggesting the Silver Line project could exacerbate both.

"We don't need the Phase III portal in Chinatown," said Bill Moy, leader of the Chinatown Neighborhood Council.

Little Chinatown opposition, however, has erupted over the core tunnel, which would take over the Boston Common's baseball field and bring pounding jack-hammers and rumbling trucks to Chinatown's northern edge -- an area that will have had its share of noisy and dusty construction from Big Dig work and new ing on which route is selected. The cost of the project if the Columbus Avenue route is selected would be about $771 million.

But South End and Back Bay resident groups, such as the Ellis South End Neighborhood Association, are putting up a fight as well. They oppose the Columbus Avenue proposal for much the same reasons Chinatown groups oppose the Chinatown proposals: traffic disruptions, pollution, pedestrian safety, and construction disturbances.

"We think it will have incredibly negative impacts on residents in the South End," said Norine Shults, president of the

And it has worked to reach out to potentially affected communities, even translating a 50-page environmental review summary of the project into Chinese.

The MBTA says that despite the opposition it has faced, the line will sensitive medical equipment inaccurate.

The MBTA (Massachusetts Bay Transportation Authority) says it's studied both the vibrations and ambulance accessibility and claims that neither would be disrupted by the portal.

"The ambulances are our concern, too," said Anna Yee, Chinatown liaison for Silver Line Phase III. "We want to know that we are comfortable that this is a doable project. And it is a doable project."

The MBTA says it would try to bargain with community groups and businesses to ease tensions. One example would be to give the DoubleTree Hotel new parking spaces, perhaps above the Washington Street portal, to make up for lost spaces if the portal is picked.

But several others oppose the Chinatown routes and portal as well. Residents complain of the potential noise, pollution and traffic disruptions during construction, while others are concerned about the health of elementary students at the nearby Josiah Quincy School and the potential disruptions to the South Cove Health Center's Washington Street branch.

At last week's meeting about the Silver Line, Tufts high rises such as Park Essex and Kensington Place.

Neighborhood leaders are urging the MBTA to select the Columbus Avenue route, which would enter a portal at Berkeley Street and bypass Chinatown. That route could have other advantages in addition to reducing Chinatown opposition. According to the MBTA's analysis, the Columbus Avenue route would have a lower annual cost than the three other routes, would be the second cheapest to build, and would be a shorter, more direct ride to the core tunnel. The entire Phase III is expected to cost $768 million to $808 million in state and federal funds, depend-

Ellis Association, which has 450 members. "We are absolutely opposed to the Columbus Avenue portal."

Though the MBTA argues that the Columbus Avenue route would make for quicker trips to South Boston and Logan Airport, Shults said the route is the "least direct" and that it is not needed because of existing public transportation.

In the face of opposition from Chinatown groups and others, however, the MBTA has made compromises. The MBTA reworked the core tunnel to avoid running under the Boston Commons Burial Ground and it scrapped previous plans to place a portal at the site of the Wang YMCA and Elliot help Boston residents. It expects the Silver Line Phase III will serve more than 150,000 riders a day and more than 45 million riders annually. In addition, the MBTA says the Silver Line routes will be accessible to 4,000 to 5,000 low-income households and travel to stations that are close to 187,000 to 217,000 jobs. It claims the Silver Line will help "further anchor the city as an

Yee, Chinatown community liaison for the Silver Line. "(The Silver Line) provides service to downtown, to work, to shop."

Editor's note: The Asian American Civic Association, Sampan's publisher, has written in opposition of the Chinatown portal alternative. Sampan takes no position on the matter.

銀線三期地下公車設出口到那裡都不受歡迎？

僅管承諾給華埠社區更便捷的大眾運輸系統，讓民眾能較快地到達波士頓羅根機場，更容易到波士頓濱水區尋找就業機會的銀線第三期。當部份民眾知道這個銀線第三期地下公車出口有可能設在華盛頓街上的紐英倫醫療中心隧道口，便紛紛表示反對。

六月二十三日由十二個組織聯合主辦「銀線第三期方案社區會議」，討論了銀線地下化公車第三期路線、出口之選擇，及對華埠地區的衝擊；當晚出席者口徑一致，強烈反對將地下公車出口設置於華埠華盛頓街上。

華埠社區議會共同主席陳灼望會中表示：「銀線出口不屬於華埠！」，他呼籲大家致函麻州州參議會議長 Sal DiMasi 及國會議員 Michael Capuano 表示意見。

塔芙茲大學教授 Doug Brugge 及保護華埠政策組織代表表示，經由調查，他們反對將出口設於華盛頓街上。由數據顯示，該路段本已屬交通危險地區，過去屢屢發生民眾意外死傷事故，若設出口於此，將使該交叉路口更加混亂；再者，施工期間工地所製造的髒亂、空氣汙染及塵埃，將使鄰近地區眾多之孩童、老人、居民、學生，更容易罹患氣喘等呼吸系統的疾病。

雙樹飯店總經理 Bob Newman 當日也到場表示，他獲悉該工程施工期間長達四至六年，並將佔去其 60% 的停車空間，加以施工期間繁忙的交通、危險的環境、及嘈雜的噪音等，都會影響該飯店居住品質，波士頓飯店業的競爭壓力已很沉重，如此將使得該飯店更難生存。

與隱形殺手對抗：高血壓與腎臟病

高血壓

血壓是什麼？心臟把血液經過動脈送到我們身體各部位，包括肌肉、腦、腎、肝、胃等，然後血液再從各處經靜脈回到心臟。血壓便是推動這血液循環的原動力。

血壓的兩個數值是什麼意思？血壓的國際單位為毫米水銀(mmHg)。當心臟收縮將血液打入動脈時，血管的壓力達最高值，這就是收縮壓(systolic pressure)。當心臟放鬆時，血壓達最低值，稱舒張壓。(diastolic pressure)。這兩個數值都非常重要。

何謂正常血壓？大部分人的血壓不應超過 140/90；意思是，收縮壓應低於 140，而舒張壓應低於 90。成年人最理想的穴壓應於 120/80 左右。對糖尿病及腎臟病換來說，血壓應在 130/80 以下。

我為什麼需要擔心高血壓呢？如果你抽煙喝酒、愛吃高鹽高脂食品、過胖、缺乏運動、年過四十五、或經常情緒緊張，你的血壓有可能已超過正常數值了。無論你的膚色或生活環境，高血壓可導致中風、心臟病、腎臟衰竭等多種

嚴重疾病。記著：血壓每增加二十毫米，得到這些疾病的機率也將雙倍！

我如何知道我有沒有高血壓？高血壓不像發燒感冒，它在早與中期是沒有症狀的。一旦到達晚期，許多上述疾病可能已侵略了你的身體。因此，定期的血壓測量非常重要，應當每年至少由醫師或護士檢查一次。

腎臟病

腎臟的功能有哪些？腎臟過濾血液，將身體不需要的水分與雜質化為尿液，以保持正常血壓。腎臟還能製造血細胞和維持骨骼強壯。

腎臟病有多普遍？在美國，十個人中就至少有一人罹患腎臟病。超過四十萬人的腎臟病嚴重到導致腎臟衰竭，這些病人需要洗腎或腎移植以取代腎臟原有的重要功能。一般而言，亞裔得腎臟病的機率は白人的一倍半。

腎臟病因為何？高血壓和糖尿病是腎臟病最常見的兩個病因，其他包括腎臟發炎、遺傳、腎結石、以及不當的藥物使用。

如何知道我有無腎臟

病？就如高血壓，腎臟病通常在晚期以前沒有任何明顯症狀。偶爾患者有腳踝水腫或深色尿液的情形，但絕大多數人並不知道他們的腎臟已逐漸地失去功能。

那麼醫師們如何知道？醫師能用顯微鏡觀察尿液，或者用血液檢驗得知腎臟病是否存在與其嚴重性。

我為什麼需要擔心腎臟病呢？腎臟病最終可導致腎衰竭（即腎完全失去功能）。以往腎衰竭等於死亡，但今天的醫療技術給許多患者生存的機會。可是，洗腎(hemodialysis)與腎移植(kidney transplant)都大大地影響病人的生活品質，所以腎臟的照顧和腎病的早期發現與治療是極重要的。

高血壓與腎臟病的治療
血壓與腎臟息息相關，因此保持正常血壓是腎臟病的最好治療，而健康的腎可以幫助血壓的控制。想要照顧好血壓與腎臟，盡量少吃高鹽份食品、多喝水、多運動、不喝酒吸煙、得到充足睡眠並保持放鬆的情緒。糖尿病患者更必

政府再將銀線出口設於華埠，並籲請眾人書寫請願書遞交相關單位，將出口處設在哥倫布大道上。但是南端的社區團體如愛利思南端社區協會(Ellis South End Neighborhood Association)對將地下巴士的出口處設在哥倫布大道上也表示強烈反對。他們反對的理由和華埠社區反對將出口處設在華盛頓街上的理由大同小益：交

通擁擠、污染、行人的安全性打折及施工中所造成的各樣污染。有個 450 個會員的愛利思南端社區協會的 Norine Shults 表示，「將巴士的出口處設在哥倫布大道上將對南端居民的生活品質造成很負面的影響。」

麻州灣區交通局在近期所出版的《環境影響報告書》中表示，「銀線第三期將貫通連接第一期（現

延華盛頓街行駛運作）和第二期（現於南波士頓濱水區運作）完成整條銀線工程。」根據此報告書，銀線第三期也將重大舒緩降低目前及未來沿著第三期車現通道的交通阻塞，節省行程時間，導致服務區域內交通、環境及經濟方面的利益。

（請參考英文版第一頁及第五頁）

須特別注意糖份的攝取。有些降低血壓的藥物對腎臟有很大的幫助，還有些能夠降低尿液中蛋白質含

量的藥也對腎臟有益。

【給編輯的信】 華人前進會不會任意組織工人 或為工人作進行抗議、呈交抗議

親愛的編輯：

謝謝你們對先鋒電子廠離職工人向廠方抗議遣散補償不合理一事的報導。如文章所述，華人前進會 (Chinese Progressvie Association, CPA) 對那些稱被剝削工資、福利及獎金，要求電子廠管理階層停止對生產線工人的侮辱、恐嚇行為，及要求電子廠公布是否會將工廠賣掉或關閉，以便職員及社區作適當準備的員工表示支持。

公平雇用機會局正在

調查傳聞中所述，電子廠內管理人員對生有年齡及性別歧視的真實性。然而，我要糾正先鋒電子廠董事蔣宗壬，在六月八日對離職工人的抗議事件所發表的言論。蔣所言：整個抗議活動的發起者為華人前進會，而抗議的宗旨還不成熟。

事實上，因為工人受了那麼多年的剝削和詆毀，在五月十六日，先鋒電子廠工人和以前被解雇工人向工廠幾項要求，並要求廠方在五天之內答覆。工人的要求為先鋒電子廠自

2002 年開始被解雇的工人，按年資每年賠償一個星期的遣散費；電子廠所有管理階層停止侮辱行為和毒藥再以恐嚇的態度對待員工，並承認工人有組織權益；電子廠公布是否會將工廠賣掉或關閉，以便職員早社區作適當準備。為配合廠方的董事會，電子廠工人和以前被解雇工人以將要求的答覆期限及抗議計劃往後延了兩次。當這些抗議工人於六月六日有機會與蔣董事見面時，蔣竟表示，廠方仍需花費一些時間來瞭解員工

據 2000 年的統計，麻州有將近百分之十五的兒童過胖？很明顯地，過去五年以來這個數目一直增加，而且短期之內似乎沒有減少的可能？究竟是什麼原因使這麼多的孩子們持續變胖呢？有人認為是近年來學校們對學測看得越來越重而降低學童上體育課的時間？有些人認為電動玩具使孩子們成天坐在電視機前完全不想運動？其他人則說飲食公司總在許多孩子看的電視頻道上打垃圾食物的廣告，像 MTV 和 Cartoon Network 等 (想一想：為什麼可口可樂是 American Idol 的主要贊助商之一呢？)？不管是學校、電玩、還是垃圾食物，父母和家庭都必須分擔一部分的責任，因為他們最能督促孩子的作息與飲食習慣。

美國國家衛生研究院 (NIH) 與麻州綜合醫院的研究顯示，許多 8 歲至 12 歲的兒童已患有原先被認為只有中年人才會得的二型糖尿病 (type 2 diabetes)？假使治療與控制不當，這些年幼患者比成人患者更迅速地發展出糖尿病的種種症狀，如視力喪失、高血壓以及多種心血管疾病？光是這個例子你大概已能了解兒童肥胖症的嚴重性了？

大眾的不悅和專家的批評使大部分的飲食公司積極地推出低糖低脂的產品？學校們也開始重新調整學生午餐菜單與販賣機的產品，有的甚至不允許學生在校喝汽水？此外，社區健康中心以及 YMCA 利用政府與許多組織提供的經費成立創新的教育活動來提倡飲食與運動對孩童的重要？

如果你的孩子接近過胖的邊緣，該怎麼辦？我在工作上與兒童一起相處的七年來學到了許多能有效地使他們遠離沙發和電視的好方法？首先，你必須了解孩子的想法與感覺，絕不可以讓他們覺得肥胖是一種恥辱？研究指出肥胖的孩子在學校往往感到疏離，這種感覺對他們的

發育有極負

面的影響？還有，即使飲食和運動的重要性對我們來說很明顯，對孩子們可不一定？因此，千萬別逼他們吃特定的食物或做運動？他們必須有意願，否則當你不在他們身邊時，小孩自然的叛逆性肯定會使他們大大地吃一番？那麼，要如何使孩子們有想過健康生活的意願呢？

方法其實很多，但最重要的是，你一定要做個好榜樣？每星期找空餘時間與孩子們一塊兒到郊外去騎腳踏車、溜冰或丟丟飛盤？許多孩子對攀岩特別感興趣，因為這是在市區內所作不到的運動？Boston Rock Gym (www.bostonrockgym.com) 位於 Woburn 附近，有附設兒童診所，而且還是個開生日派對的佳處？如果你真的沒時間（或許你比孩子更需要運動！），你可以讓孩

的訴求及所抗議的事件，然而這些工人卻『無論如何地』進行先前計劃好的抗議活動。

在查明這些工人的意圖後，華人前進會瞭解也許有部份誤解在其中，所以我們仍告知蔣董事工

社區對玻璃鞋酒吧將遷至原址對街表示不滿

京盛園發展商及部份議員：這是無可奈何的事實華埠／南灣社區議會六月二十日晚間於聖詹氏教堂召開每月例行會議，色情酒吧「玻璃鞋酒吧」 (Glass Slipper) 的去留問題是當晚會議中的爭議焦點，部份社區議員對玻璃鞋將很可能只是遷移的同一條街的對面表示非常失望，也有部份議員表示無可奈何，但得被迫接受。

社區原本期望以京盛園大樓的興建，達到驅逐玻璃鞋酒吧的目的。但京盛園大樓興建計畫的發展商的代表律師 J. Ralph Cole 在會中表示，「由於玻璃鞋酒吧並未違反法律規範或區域劃分規定，且該酒吧於拉冠街營業已達二十年之久，移除該酒吧非常困難，發展商已做了努

人繼續進行抗議的計劃，但不會向主流媒體發布。

華人前進會的工人中心在幫助華裔新移民工人瞭解他們的權益及可進行的合法活動，並提供我們的經驗及社區支持。我們

力，希望社區能諒解。」

議員劉啓祥在會中強調，「當初社區支持京盛園大樓興建計畫的初衷之一，就是希望能藉由京盛園大樓的興建，達到驅逐玻璃鞋酒吧的目的，如果該酒吧只是『遷移』至原址之對街繼續營業，社區沒有再繼續支持的必要，希

不會任意組織工人或為工人作進行抗議、呈交抗議書或告知媒體的決定。

華人前進會
執行主任 駱理得

望發展商能投注更多金錢及資源來努力驅逐這個色情酒吧。」

華埠社區議會共同主席陳灼堃對此表示，玻璃鞋酒吧目前並未不符法律規範及區域

劃分等規定，該酒吧有權遷移至對街繼續營業，社區並無權力阻止，對此他無奈表

好好照顧孩子的健康

Stephen Wong 作
張禹歲翻譯

子參加游泳課、兒童運動聯盟、或如 YMCA 提供的 FitKids/FitTeens 課程？

飲食方面，要求孩子吃蔬菜水果是件很難的事，所以你要創意地將它們融入孩子的飲食中？舉例來說，如果孩子愛吃義大利麵，你可以用果汁機將煮過的蔬菜打碎，然後混入肉醬內？當你為孩子作三明治時，記得多放些番茄與青菜，少用美乃滋？還有，鼓勵孩子自己動手作 Smoothie？只要在果汁機中放些香蕉、草莓、藍莓、芒果、低脂優格和碎冰，便能作出營養豐富又美味可口的夏日冰品！你可以在 www.foodnetwork.com 找到更多有益健康的食譜？

除此之外，教孩子培養吃飽就停的習慣，千萬別用像 " 世界上有好多小孩沒飯吃 " 的話逼他們嚥下剩餘的飯菜！將剩菜剩

飯冷藏起來，留到孩子肚子餓時再作點心？如果想要讓

孩子吃新的食物，記得和他們一同進食？還有，多用加哩粉和大蒜粉等調味料取代鹽和糖，使孩子對新的食物更有興趣？

許多電玩公司陸續推出將運動與電視遊樂器合併的產品，例如已在市場多年的 Dance Dance Revolution？玩家必須依照螢幕上的指令用腳踩踏控制板上的按鈕，看起來就好像是在跳舞一樣，實在是個老少咸宜的遊戲？另外，玩家可以用 Cateye 公司的 Game Bike 操縱超過 70 種遊戲 (包括各類主機)？在網上其售價為 $349 左右？有這些新產品的幫助，就連再愛打電動的小孩都能運動了？

記得，教導孩子們過個健康生活的關鍵是要讓他們保持興趣？用點創意讓各種活動更有趣與簡單，並鼓勵全家人一起做？孩子現在的生活習慣將跟

著他們一生並傳接給下一代，所以讓我們一同為他們的健康鋪路，並向兒童肥胖症宣戰吧！

綠卡持有人出國旅遊
如何維持永久居留身份

一個領有永久居留權的新移民應該知道，即使所持有的身份雖帶有『永久』二字，但有時並不是真的永久。在一些情況下，這個永久居留身份還是有被取消的可能。這一期的移民法專欄，我就先來和大家討論：出國旅遊時，可能失去永久居留身份的情況。

會面臨這樣的危險情況的多是一個剛獲得永久居留權的新移民，因工作或家庭的職責而需要在美國境外停留較長的一段時間。根據美國移民法，假如一個移民有終止永久居留的意圖，移民局很可能會撤銷這個移民的永久居留權。

一般而言，一個綠卡持有人若出境不超過十二個月，多數不會面臨綠卡被撤銷的問題。另外，若在特殊的情況下（如海外工作的需要）必須在美國境外停留超過十二個月，這個綠卡持有人可以在離美前申請回美證（Reentry

Permit），以待將來用此證件回美國。

即便是如此，一個無論是將離美或長或短的永久居民，以下的種種情況可能會被判斷有否撤銷永久居留的意圖：

一、這個移民的家庭所在地；

二、這個移民的財產所在地；

三、這個移民的工作地點；

四、這個移民的實際居所；

五、在美國境外停留時間的長短；

六、出境的目的及此目的是否有臨時的意向。

一個綠卡持有人若出境時間較長，在境外仍繼續向美國申報所得稅是非常重要的。綠卡持有人是有義務向美國稅務局申報他在世界的總收入及付稅。雖然在美國境外的收入在某個金額下或有免稅或減稅優惠，但向美國政府報稅是很重要的。此外，如果綠卡持有人需在美國境外仍保有美國銀行的存款戶口，便可被視為有回

美的傾向。再者，一個移民若有其他國家的移民申請正在進行（如加拿大移民局所發出的登陸紙），應考慮終止他國的移民申請。否則將會被視為沒有長久居留美國的意向。

最後要提醒綠卡持有人的是，若想離開美國領土超過十二個月，必須要申請回美證。回美證的申請表格 Form I-131 可以自移民局網站下載。回美證的有效期限一般是兩年。綠卡持有人在回美證的申請表格 Form I-131 上必須填上旅遊的目的、預定出境的時間及待在境外的時間長短。如此，回美證申請人的旅遊目的會被收錄在回美證的申請表格上。回美證的申請會被遞交到美國移民局的 Nebraska 服務中心。

英文版「無間道」近日至波士頓華埠取景

紐英崙中華公所日前向華埠商戶發出公開信，公告好萊塢華納電影製片公司將於六月三十日及七月一日兩天晚上至清晨，至波士頓華埠拍攝英文版「無間道」(The Departed) 電影外景。

公告中也指出，華納公司爲了回饋波城華埠的合作，特別捐助華埠治安巡邏隊若干經費。中華公所呼籲華埠商家對拍攝活動給予合作和支持。

公告中指出，這部由 Martin Scorsese 執導，著名演員李奧那多，傑克尼克遜 (Jack Nicholson)

和麥特戴蒙 (Matt Damon) 主演的電影，將讓全世界觀眾看到波城華埠的景觀、歷史、特色，對於促進波城華埠的經濟繁榮及旅遊事業，相信會有積極的作用。

電影製作公司目前也透過舢舨雙語報、華僑文教中心等數個華埠團體徵求四十個能說寫至少基本英語的臨時演員，以配合這兩天在華埠的取景工作。這四十個臨時演員有許多是新移民，對能加入美國電影拍攝工作十分興奮。

(繼第一頁博索尼)博索尼是一位登記的民主黨員；她表示，爲了要改善市府的財政狀況，她將會支持增加對於那些屬於免稅商業的稅收，而非倚賴現在的" 支付款而非稅款" 制度，她認爲現在的制度無法爲城市爭取到足夠的經費。她也指出，她將會鼓勵更多的機構進駐波士頓，進而產生更多的工作機會，她也會與發展商合作來鼓勵發展更多的混合收入住屋。

談到建築物的發展一是最近幾年在華埠中被熱烈討論的一個話題。博索尼提到" 我真的認爲城市的發展應該要符合地區的最佳利益。"

對於波士頓發展局的雙重角色，一方面爲設計者另一方面爲開發機構，她稱之爲" 利益相衝突"。

她提到，市議會應該要更涉及到開發的部分，並且應該要" 代表市民們" 和提供" 市民們的聲音與意見。"

近幾年，因爲例如公園益石廣場(Park Essex) 和 京 盛 園 廣 場 (Kensington Place) 這些於華埠內的大型豪華混合

住宅的審核通過，使得地區產生緊張感。一部分社區的人認爲如此多的建設和波士頓主要計畫將可以使得區域重建成爲中產階級居住區。也有一部分的人認爲這些發展產生更多的住房機會，進而刺激經濟發展。市議員肯立支持京盛園廣場和公園益石廣場，因爲他認爲這些建築可以爲地方民眾帶來住房機會，而且這些建築都有包括一些可負擔的住房單位。

針對波士頓大學醫學中心所提的高科技生化防禦研究實驗室提案，博索尼表示不支持實驗室的提案，因爲這將會引進世界上最易致死的病菌於波士頓，例如伊波拉病毒和炭疽病毒。

" 我真的認爲引進那樣高度熱門研究領域所需的儀器，實在不是一個好點子，" 她表示。然而，相反地，肯立卻是支持研究室成立。

博索尼沮喪的談到她在區域 2(District 2)的競選。

" 我已經居住在南端有十年之久……並且我感覺到我們需要也值得一位比現在更好的代表。我

也感受到在每一次拿到？單時的那種沮喪感，並且這種感覺因著稅成指數的上漲而增加……而我並沒有看見城市中因著我們交的稅上漲而有所改善。"

爲了反應她的沮喪感，她兩年前辭去了原本研究分析師的職位，並且開始計畫加入市議會。她提到她與政要們談過，並且開始參與市議會的公聽會以及波士頓發展局的規劃會議。

" 政策總是可以激勵我，使我想到了我擁有財經的背景，可以有效的運用幫助改善波士頓市現有的問題'。"

當被問及到對於 Kelly 這位自從 1983 就開始負責區域 2 的市議員有何看法時,Passoni 表示" 我只是認爲作爲一位地方代表，我們並沒有太常看見 Kelly，因此我們需要一位更好的代表。"

針對這些談話,Kelly 有什麼樣的意見？

一開始,Kelly 婉拒了向對手作出任何的評論，表示他寧可談論他的貢獻。但在最後,他表示在這星期的一場會面中,他覺得他的" 對手試圖討好每一個人。" 他談到

Passoni 在最近曾宣佈表示支持立法，來作爲波士頓大學生化防禦研究室和其他類似的機構一個有效的指南，她突然改變立場針對這個生化實驗室的議題。

對於對 Passoni 的看法,Kelly 並沒有作太多的陳述，他說" 儘管是我的批評者們也會承認，沒有人會比我來的認真、投入更多的時間且得到更多的成果了。"

" 我在(華埠)針對公共安全的議題；針對發展的議題，" 他表示。" 我捲起袖子，爲了華埠的居

民極力爭取可負擔的住宅。"

然而，他獲得許多不同的評價。

" 對於華埠的人來說，他一直是一位優秀的市議員，" 領導華埠居民議會的陳灼鑒說到。" 他不論種族與膚色的選民認爲他表現良好。" 他也談到他認爲肯立傑出" 而且支持華埠。

" 我想有許多的華埠居民對於他針對某些議題的投票並不是很高興，尤其是最近的發展議題，" 華人前進會 (Chinese Progressive Association)的駱理德意 (Lydia Lowe)說到。她也表示 Kelly 曾經再發展會議上對華埠居民協會作出不佳的評論。但是她提到，他確實是經常會參加" 華埠的活動與慶祝會。"

肯立對於博索尼的參選這個他已經佔據將近有四分之一個世紀的市議員席位而覺得威脅嗎？

" 我從不會低估我的對手。我尊敬選民，也不會把他們的選票當作是應該的，我很有信心但是不是過度的有信心。" (翻譯 何嘉鈺)

風水掌天下

作者：招証恩居士

書中有美顏如玉

今天很早九點多鐘，陳老闆請我到他的餐館看風水，回來唐人街辦事處坐下飲咖啡稍作休息，順手拿本從香港帶來的書來觀看，這本書的書名叫做「黃金屋」。其中有一段故事這本書的作者寫得很有詩意，現在我抄寫出來拋磚引玉來同各位讀者分享。

有一位在街市賣瓜菜的年輕小姐，客人來攤位買豆腐菠菜，跟著後面亦有一個和尚來買豆腐菠菜，更有一個伙頭將軍亦要買豆腐及菠菜。

賣瓜菜的小姐話，「我的菜攤只剩一份豆腐菠菜，若我堅持將這份豆腐菠菜賣給你們其中一人，似乎很不公道。現在我有一個辦法—讓你們三人各吟一首詩，由我來決定那一首詩好，我就將這份豆腐菠菜賣給誰。」

最先到來瓜菜攤

位的客人是讀書人，心中在想自己是讀書人，吟詩作對，唏！易如反掌啦！就大聲話：由我先吟！

讀書人吟：有口是和，無口也是禾，除去右邊口，加斗變成科，科科學人誰不要，望你豆腐兼菠菜。

和尚跟著吟：有水是清，無水也是青，除去左邊水，加日變成晴，清清晴晴誰不要，望你豆腐兼菠菜。

伙頭將軍吟：有木是橋，無木也是喬，除去左邊木，加女變成嬌，嬌嬌女子誰不愛，望你豆腐兼菠菜。

攤位賣瓜菜的小姐對各人話：和尚及讀書人所吟的詩句都沒有讚賞到我，唯獨是那位伙頭將軍就有讚賞到我，所以我將這份豆腐菠菜賣給伙頭將軍。

(繼上頁) 華美福利會於1967年成立, 38年來致力於服務波士頓地區的新移民。三種主要的服務項目為教育中心、綜和服務中心及舢舨雙語報。教育中心在克服新移民的語言障礙, 並促進他們的就業能力如成人英語班、家庭英語班、英語進階班、辦公室文員訓練

班、物業維修訓練課程及汽車維修課程。綜合服務中心為新移民提供各種適應美國社會環境及制度的服務。舢舨雙週報為本地華裔有所影響的新聞提要, 是社區唯一的中英雙語刊物。

(繼第一頁尹常賢) "我們認為不論他是一位自由黨員或民主黨員, 是中國人或韓國人, 如此一位年輕亞裔美國人肯奉獻自己的才幹於市議會中, 這就是值得受到支持的," 麻州亞裔共和黨黨員組織的主席黃鷹立 (Joe Wong) 談到。

當被問到該團體如何調停因為支持一位與他們政治立場完全不同的候選人而產生的歧見時, 黃鷹立回答 "我們盡可能的關心麻州亞裔共和黨黨員組織, 亞裔是優先考量, 共和黨黨員才是其次。若是沒有亞裔社區團體支持我們, 對於共和黨而言我們團體也將是等於沒有作用。"

其他成員補充為何他們團體決定支持尹的原因, 是因為他採取了初步行動來組織並激勵一個在投票行動以外的更高層政治活動。

一位共和黨協會的成員 Yoke Wong 談到 "

在這個團體中要獲得成功, 政治的進行是一個關鍵," 他也提到他認為尹的確是受到亞裔社區民眾的 "擁護"。

"我們認為他是亞裔並不足以使我們支持他," 在組織中擔任秘書的 David Wong 提到。" 他瞭解社區而且也關心社 (尹常賢(中)於麻州亞裔共和黨協會時與與會者交談) 區。"

黃鷹立說尹在幾個月以前有來與組織會面並請求他們的支持。

"我因為可以將不同種族、宗教、和觀點的波士頓人聚集起來成為一

個多元化的團體而感到自豪," 尹說到。他也說他會採取一個 "進步的方法" 來改善教育、增加補助屋、以及強化波士頓的社區。

尹開始於華埠中為人所知, 是因為他之前在亞美社區發展協會的工作, 而此組織在最近合作開發於華埠之中混合收 (Metropolitan)。尹也已經於四月份離開亞美發展協會。

尹常賢最近成為 Dorchester 的居民, 他之前曾任教於新澤西州

的公立學校畢業於普林斯頓大學的他擁有教師執照, 並哲學學士。

為了爭取四個自由參選的市議會議員席位的其中之一, 尹將會面臨到如預期一般的激烈競爭。根據上一次的計數, 約有十五位候選人 - 包括重量級的 Michael Flaherty 和長期的市議員 Stephen J. Murphy - 也同樣地在爭取四個席位中的一席。其他的競爭者包括了市的第一位西班牙裔議員 Felix Arroyo 和擁有波士頓政治世家背景的 Patricia H. White (前市長 Kevin White 的千金); Edward Flynn (前波士頓市長 Raymond Flynn 的公子) 以及 John Connolly (父親 Michael Connolly 擔任麻州房屋代表以及麻州州秘書, 母親 Lynda Connolly 則是麻州地方法院的最高法官)。(本文為何嘉鈺翻譯)

華美福利會
(Asian American
Civic Association,
AACA) 六月二十八日

上午於華埠雙樹飯店舉行各課程班級學員的畢業典禮，近兩百名學生，在親友家人及來賓見證下，開心取得在華美福利會課程結業之畢業證書，儀式莊重溫馨。當天畢業典禮的嘉賓有麻州人力發展部主任 Jane C. Edmonds、駐波士頓臺北經濟文化辦事處處長楊國棟、昆士中學校長黃伯勳、波士頓美術館中國美術部門助理主任盛昊，以及具該會董事身份的雙樹酒店總經理 Robert Newman、金門超市負責人胡運焯及美洲銀行總裁董繼中。

麻州人力發展部主任 Jane C. Edmonds 表示，「華美福利會服務亞裔社區已有三十八年的歷史，協助亞裔移民和難民適應美國的生活，達到經濟上的自立。今天很高興大家能前來參加畢業典禮，並祝福畢業學生都能更上一層樓。」

華美福利會 學生歡喜畢業 觀禮嘉賓勉勵畢業生前途無限

雙樹酒店總經理 Robert Newman 為畢業典禮的司儀，並一一介紹華美福利會的各項學習節目。他並表示，「酒店原本要提供一個會議廳來舉辦此次的畢業典禮。但發現畢業人數很多，還好我們有個大陽台，今早又陽光普照，畢業典禮可以順利進行。」

駐波士頓台北經濟文化辦事處處長楊國棟，也在會中稱許該會歷史悠久，多年來造福無數的亞裔新移民，並呼籲學有所成的華美福利會學生們心懷感恩，時時不忘回饋母校，讓華美人的進步能夠一代接續一代。

美洲銀行董事董繼中表示，自己也是新移民，知道學習機會及社區服務對新移民的重要。董除了肯定華美福利會的貢獻外，也勉勵所有的畢業生前途無線。

波士頓美術館的

盛昊表示，該館與華美福利會的成人基礎教育課程合作，讓學生餐館美術館時，也能學習實用英語。盛昊祝福華美福利會的服務項目繼續擴大。

金門超市負責人胡運焯表示，從華美福利會的學習課程畢業，只是畢業生在移民生涯中所要成就的第一步。未來還有很長的路要走，這段路也許會很艱辛。但每個人都是自己的主人，靠著自己的決定及

其次。若是沒有亞裔社區團體支持我們，對於共和黨而言我們團體也將是等於沒有作用。

其他成員補充為何他們團體決定支持尹的原因，是因為他採取了初步行動來組織並激勵一個在投票行動以外的更高層政治活動。

一位共和黨協會的成員 Yoke Wong 談到「在這個團體中要獲得成功，政治的進行是一個關鍵，」他也提到他認為尹的確是受到亞裔社區民眾的「擁護」。

「我們認為他是亞裔並不足以使我們支持他，」在組織中擔任秘書的 David Wong 提到。」他瞭解社區 (第二頁繼續)

亞裔共和黨員協會 "慷慨地" 支持民主黨的尹常賢

「我是一位民主黨員；我甚至可以形容我自己為一位滿腔熱血的民主自由份子，」波士頓市議員候選人尹常賢 (Sam Yoon) 在最近的政治討論中如此說。

然而儘管政治立場的不同，尹常賢最近仍受到一個似乎不可能支持他的團體的推捧：麻州亞裔共和黨員協會 (Asian Republicans of Massachusetts)。

亞裔共和黨員協會為了尹而齊聚一堂 - 第一個亞裔美國人為了市議會在波士頓舉行的聚會 - 於六月二十二日靠近華埠的多明尼加餐廳 (Dominick's Restaurant) 舉行。

尹常賢出生於韓國，而麻州亞裔共和黨員協會是幾個不同團體中支持他的其中之一。根據他的募款記錄，目前為止他已經獲得許多在當地的亞裔和非亞裔社區成員的支持，也獲得那些甚至不住在波士頓的人士，以及那些可

能與他有相反政治立場人士的支持。

「我們認為不論他是一位自由黨員或民主黨員，是中國人或韓國人，如此一位年輕亞裔美國人肯奉獻自己的才幹於市議會中，這就是值得受到支持的，」麻州亞裔共和黨黨員組織的主席黃鷹立 (Joe Wong) 談到。

當被問到該團體如何調停因為支持一位與他們政治立場完全不同的候選人而產生的歧見時，黃鷹立回答「我們盡可能的關心麻州亞裔共和黨黨員組織，亞裔是優先考量，共和黨黨員才是

努力，終可突破困難，作一個快樂的美國人。

該日頒發的包括該會新移民英語、成人基礎教育、亞裔家庭學習課程、辦公室技術訓練、設備維修課程等結業學生的畢業證書，約兩百位學生今年由該會課程中結業。

華美福利會董事主席陳美霞致詞時表示，非常感謝各界的支持及參與，也歡迎大家踴躍加入華美福利會的大家庭，共同為提升新移民生活水準而努力。她並特別感謝新加入董事會的雙樹飯店總經理 (第二頁繼續)

博索尼要挑戰肯立 爭取波士頓市議員南端選區的寶座

【本報史亞當報導】長時間擔任波士頓市議員的詹姆士·肯立 (James Kelly)，負責區域包括了華埠，他在即將舉行的市議會選舉中，將與南端候選人蘇珊·博索尼 (Susan Passoni) 競爭。

博索尼來自紐約但是住在波士頓有十年了，過去她曾擔任投資銀行中的研究分析師二十年，而且在幾個社區組織中服務，擔任愛利思南端社區協會 (Ellis South End Neighborhood Association) 的董事委員，於艾瑟學校 (Building Excellent Schools) 擔任財務委員會主席，以及亞塞特許學校 (Excel Academy Charter) 的董事委員。

在她投資銀行業務的資歷上面，包括了曾擔任波士頓史偉士投資銀行 (Credit Suisse First Boston) 的主管以及在 SG Cowen 擔任管理主任與合夥人。

博索尼表示她想要利用她在財經分析上的長才來改善波士頓的市府預算。

「我對於市府預算有強

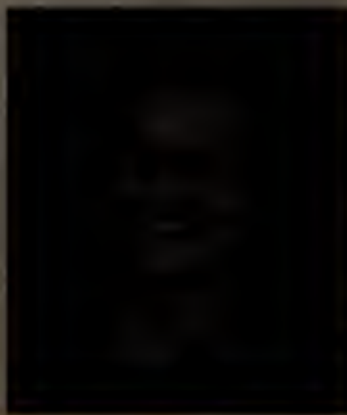

烈的情感，」她表示，沒有什麼會比「市議會需要被更佳的教導於預算之下各種不同的動力」另她覺得重要。

此外，她也提到市議會並沒有儘可能的朝向波士頓許多的迅速進行大量運算的研究機構伸出觸角來爭取更多的經費支持。

「實在是有許多聰明的人在這個市裡面工作，我認為我們應該要更有效率地向他們伸出觸角，」她提到。

博索尼是一位登記的民主黨員，她表示，為了要改善市府的財政狀況，她將會支持增加對於那些屬於免稅商業的稅收，而 (第三頁繼續)
